

ACADEMIC

Calendar

The Lebanese International University has a semester based academic calendar. The current semesters are fall, spring, and summer. A student of academic good standing can register a maximum of 15 credits maximum per each semester.

Each semester the add/drop period for the first two weeks. LIU students generally sign up for courses during the registration period before the start of each academic semester. However, you may sometimes want to change your schedule by adding a course you are not yet signed up for or by dropping a course in which you are enrolled. At the end of each semester final examinations take place.
